If you live in Oregon and think your civil right to fair housing has been violated

DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT

WHO DO FAIR HOUSING LAWS PROTECT?

The federal Fair Housing Act makes it illegal for landlords, home owners associations, real estate agents, mortgage brokers, lenders, insurance companies and others to discriminate against anyone on the basis of:

- Race
- Color
- National Origin/Ethnicity
- Religion
- Family Status (families with children under 18)
- Physical or Mental Disability
- Sex/Gender

Oregon Law also includes:

Legal Sources of Income, Domestic Violence Survivors, Marital Status, Sexual Orientation and Gender Identity.

It is illegal to discriminate because an income source is a public assistance program. This includes the Section 8/Housing Choice voucher program operated by local housing authorities and rent assistance from agencies.

Some cities and counties also include protection for:
Age and Type of Occupation

SOMETIMES ILLEGAL HOUSING DISCRIMINATION CAN LOOK LIKE THIS

- You are denied the opportunity to rent, buy or negotiate for housing.
- You are told the housing is not available, although it really is.
- You are directed to housing in a particular area, neighborhood or section of the complex instead of being allowed to make that choice yourself.
- Your reasonable request for a change in housing rules is turned down, even though the change is needed because of your disability.
- You are turned down for a rental because you have an arrest record.
- You are turned down for a rental when the landlord finds out your sexual orientation.
- You have a disability and aren't allowed to install grab bars in your bathroom at your own expense.
- Your landlord finds out you are a survivor of domestic violence and evicts you.
- You are denied a rental because the gender on your ID is different than on your application.
- You are singled out, denied services that others have, or are treated differently.
- You are told you can't rent an apartment because they don't accept government assistance such as TANF, Section 8 (Housing Choice Vouchers) or rent assistance from social service agencies.

YOU CAN DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT!

If you are being unfairly evicted, harassed or refused housing, it will help if you do the following before calling FHCO:

- Keep a record of all documents letters, receipts, contracts, voicemail messages and notices;
- Take pictures of the problem if possible;
- Get names and numbers of people involved;
- Get details — date of the incident, costs, address where it happened;
- Talk to neighbors — Who else is experiencing this? Who saw it happen?

After the discrimination occurs, you have up to 1 year to file a complaint and up to 2 years to file a personal lawsuit. Even if you are not ready to file a complaint at this time, call FHCO to find out your rights.
